

The Point Weekly Bulletin

March 6th – March 12th, 2010

Balconies

Strata council has been notified that on a few separate occasions, objects were being thrown off of balconies onto the street below. Any residents observing this behavior are asked to please call the New Westminister Police Non-Emergency Line at 604-525-5411, as well as notifying council by emailing us at info@the-point.ca. Any residents identified as throwing items off their balconies will be assessed a fine of $200 per occurrence.

Paralympics

The Paralympics are starting next week! Tickets are still available for most events, and start at just $15. More information on tickets is available at www.vancouver2010.com. A number of the pavillions will re-open for the Paralympics, including the Canada Pavillion, the Manitoba Pavillion and Northern House. For information on free events taking place over the Paralympics, visit www.citycaucus.com/paralympics.
